1 Background

Fondazione Penta ONLUS (herewith Penta) coordinates, promotes, and sponsors research and activities in paediatric infectious diseases. To date, Penta has hosted over 41 research projects, 24 of which have been funded by the European Commission, and more than 70 training courses worldwide.

Penta is supported by its vast and vibrant Penta ID (infectious disease) Network, a network of scientists, clinicians, and researchers, with more than 110 sites in 31 countries worldwide.

Penta also hosts a number of youth engagement projects, ensuring the voices of children and young people are central to research development and delivery.

The present call refers to the project LAAG (Long Acting Injectables Advisory Group) coordinated by Penta.

In this project, Penta has been commissioned by ViiV Healthcare to capture the views, concerns, potential barriers and needs adolescents living with HIV have about receiving their anti-retroviral therapy through long-acting injections.

This small six-month project LAAG will run consultation workshops in five countries.

Each workshop will consist of a minimum of eight adolescents living with HIV (section 2.1).

The findings from these workshops will be shared in an Advisory Group meeting (section 2.2) by two of the workshop participants who will be voted for by the workshop participants. The Advisory Group meeting will be a forum for sharing different countries experiences and attitudes to injectable ART and discuss ways to support education and understanding within these communities.

2 Expected Services

2.1 Consultation workshop

Penta is looking for registered Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) that work with adolescents living with HIV in the following countries:

- Mexico
- South Africa
- Thailand
- Uganda
- USA

Penta will ask each NGO to set up a 2.5 hour workshop in their facilities. The Services provided by the NGOs would include:

- Locating a minimum of 8 adolescents living with HIV to attend.
- Gaining consent for the adolescents' care giver for them to attend.
- Arranging a room, travel for the adolescents and refreshments for the workshop.
- Facilitating a small payment to each adolescent on completion of the workshop to acknowledge their time in the process.
- Have one member of staff present for safeguarding and if any of the participants need additional support during the consultation.

Penta will provide a workshop facilitator and all the materials needed for the consultation.

2.2 Advisory Group

The Advisory Group might meet in digital or in-person (this will be confirmed by April 2023).

Services for Digital meeting

The NGO would support the two representatives to attend three digital meetings - two planning meetings and the advisory group meeting. This would include:

- Supporting the adolescents (if they need support) to engage with the Penta team running this project.
- Ensuring they have access to a computer, tablet or phone and the Internet, either through them accessing this at the NGO offices, by hiring a separate meeting room or by supporting the adolescents by providing data so they can use their own equipment at home.
- Making a small payment to the adolescents for their time at the meetings.

Services for In-person meeting

NGO would support the two representatives to:

- Obtain all necessary travel documents to be able to attend an in-person meeting (passports, visa applications)
- Support Penta staff to have discussion with the adolescents' care givers to ensure the family is fully supportive of the adolescent attending the meeting.
- Work with Penta staff to find an appropriate chaperone to escort the adolescents to the meeting (we anticipate the in-person meeting will be attached to an international conference that local medical staff will be attending).

Support that can be offered to adolescents and their families so they can participate fully	0 to 5	30 %
Experience of working on an international project	0 to 5	10 %
Facilities the NGO has	0 to 5	10%

1	A very poor answer, indicating a response to the question that fails to meet the very basic needs and requirements of Penta, or requires an unacceptable compromise.
2	A poor answer, indicating a response to this question that fails to meet some of Penta's basic needs and requirements, and which demonstrates significant weaknesses or requires major compromises from Penta.
3	A satisfactory answer, indicating a response to this question that meets Penta's basic needs and requirements, but which demonstrates tangible weaknesses or requires some minor compromises from Penta.
4	A good answer, indicating a response to this question that generally meets Penta's needs and requirements, with only very minor weaknesses or issues
